MobileLink Handheld Receiver

The MobileLink is designed for versatility by allowing an incident commander, safety officer or firefighter assistance team to monitor transmitted thermal imaging video while on the move. Its compact, easy-to-use handheld receiver fits the needs of every firefighter. MobileLink uses no cords or bulky antennas and allows the user to monitor a scene from up-close or from distances up to 600 feet through typical construction.

Part numbers:

- ML1 - 2-Channel MobileLink with battery, battery charger, and AC/DC adaptors
- ML2 - 2-Channel MobileLink only

SceneCatcher 2.0

Designed for T3 and T4 Series thermal imagers and housed in a rugged Bullard TI handle, this digital video recorder simultaneously captures 60 minutes of video and more than 300 still images from a Bullard Thermal Imager. Digital images and videos download easily through a USB. The SceneCatcher offers seamless operation with the Bullard transmitter system.

Part numbers:

- SS - SceneCatcher DVR
- SSTRANS2 - SceneCatcher DVR and 2-channel transmitter

Transmitter System

Bullard offers a high-powered transmitter for remote viewing of up to two thermal imagers. This lightweight transmitter system is capable of transmitting clear images through residential construction and is housed inside a TI handle attachment. Available on T3 and T4 Series thermal imagers.

Part number:

- HANDLETRANSONLY2 - 2-Channel transmitter
- T3HANDLE - Handle only, no transmitter

Powerhouse Truck Charger

The Powerhouse Truck Charger is the perfect home for your Bullard T3 and T4 Series and Eclipse® Thermal Imager when it's not in use. Ruggedly durable, the Powerhouse charges two batteries at once and meets NFPA 1901-10-1.7 standards. It features a unique locking mechanism to keep your thermal imager secured and is mountable in multiple orientations.

Part numbers:

- POWERHOUSE - Truck mount direct charge system for T3 and T4 Series cameras
- ECLPOWERHOUSE - Truck mount direct charge system for Eclipse and Eclipse LD Thermal Imagers

Glare Shield

The Glare Shield eliminates glare in daylight operations and can be held at arm's length or close to the user's face.

Part numbers:

T3GLARESHIELD - Glare Shield for T3 Series

T4GLARESHIELD - Glare Shield for T4 Series

ECLGLARESHIELD - Glare Shield for Eclipse

T3GLARESHIELD

T4GLARESHIELD

ECLGLARESHIELD

Retractable Strap

Designed with the rigors of firefighting in mind, Bullard's extendable strap keeps your thermal imager out of the way while crawling and working.

Part numbers:

T3RETRACT - Retract strap for T3 and T4 Series Thermal Imagers

ECLRETRACT - Retract strap for Eclipse Thermal Imager

Hard Case

Pelican™ hard carrying case will hold your T3 or T4 Series Thermal Imager, Transmit Handle, MobileLink, TacPort, charger and two spare batteries.

Part number:
HARDCASE

Alkaline Pack

Power your T3 or T4 Series Thermal Imager with ordinary AA batteries. The Alkaline Pack can be used during high-rise or wildland operations or anytime your TI is deprived of the ability to recharge.

Part number:
T3ALK

TacPort

The T3 and T4 Series thermal imagers can be converted from highly mobile, handheld devices to longer-term, fixed-position surveillance units.

The TacPort attachment provides video-out functionality and auxiliary power ports for extended operation from an external power supply such as a vehicle's cigarette lighter. Includes 12V power cord.

Part number:
TACPORT

Where does Bullard get the ideas for accessories? From you.

Bullard accessories are created from comments we receive from firefighters in the field. When a firefighter says, "I could really use that," we're there to provide the solution. Whether it's battling a fire or investigating a blaze, responding to a search and rescue call, or examining hazardous materials, Bullard products help firefighters save lives.
